MADISONIAN '77

Madison High School
Rexburg, Idaho

Though tragedy has come and the ordinary has gone,
Something was left that to us belongs.

Left was the strength from pain and sorrow,
To face the hardships of tomorrow.

always have to be different

11/22

Lisa

Gained was brotherhood from working together,
Building friendships that would last forever.

With loss of possessions humility was found,
Which made us more tightly bound.

And with all this
we had a smile,
for the journey ahead mile upon mile.

But greater are we for this experience,
to add to our lives and our souls enrich.

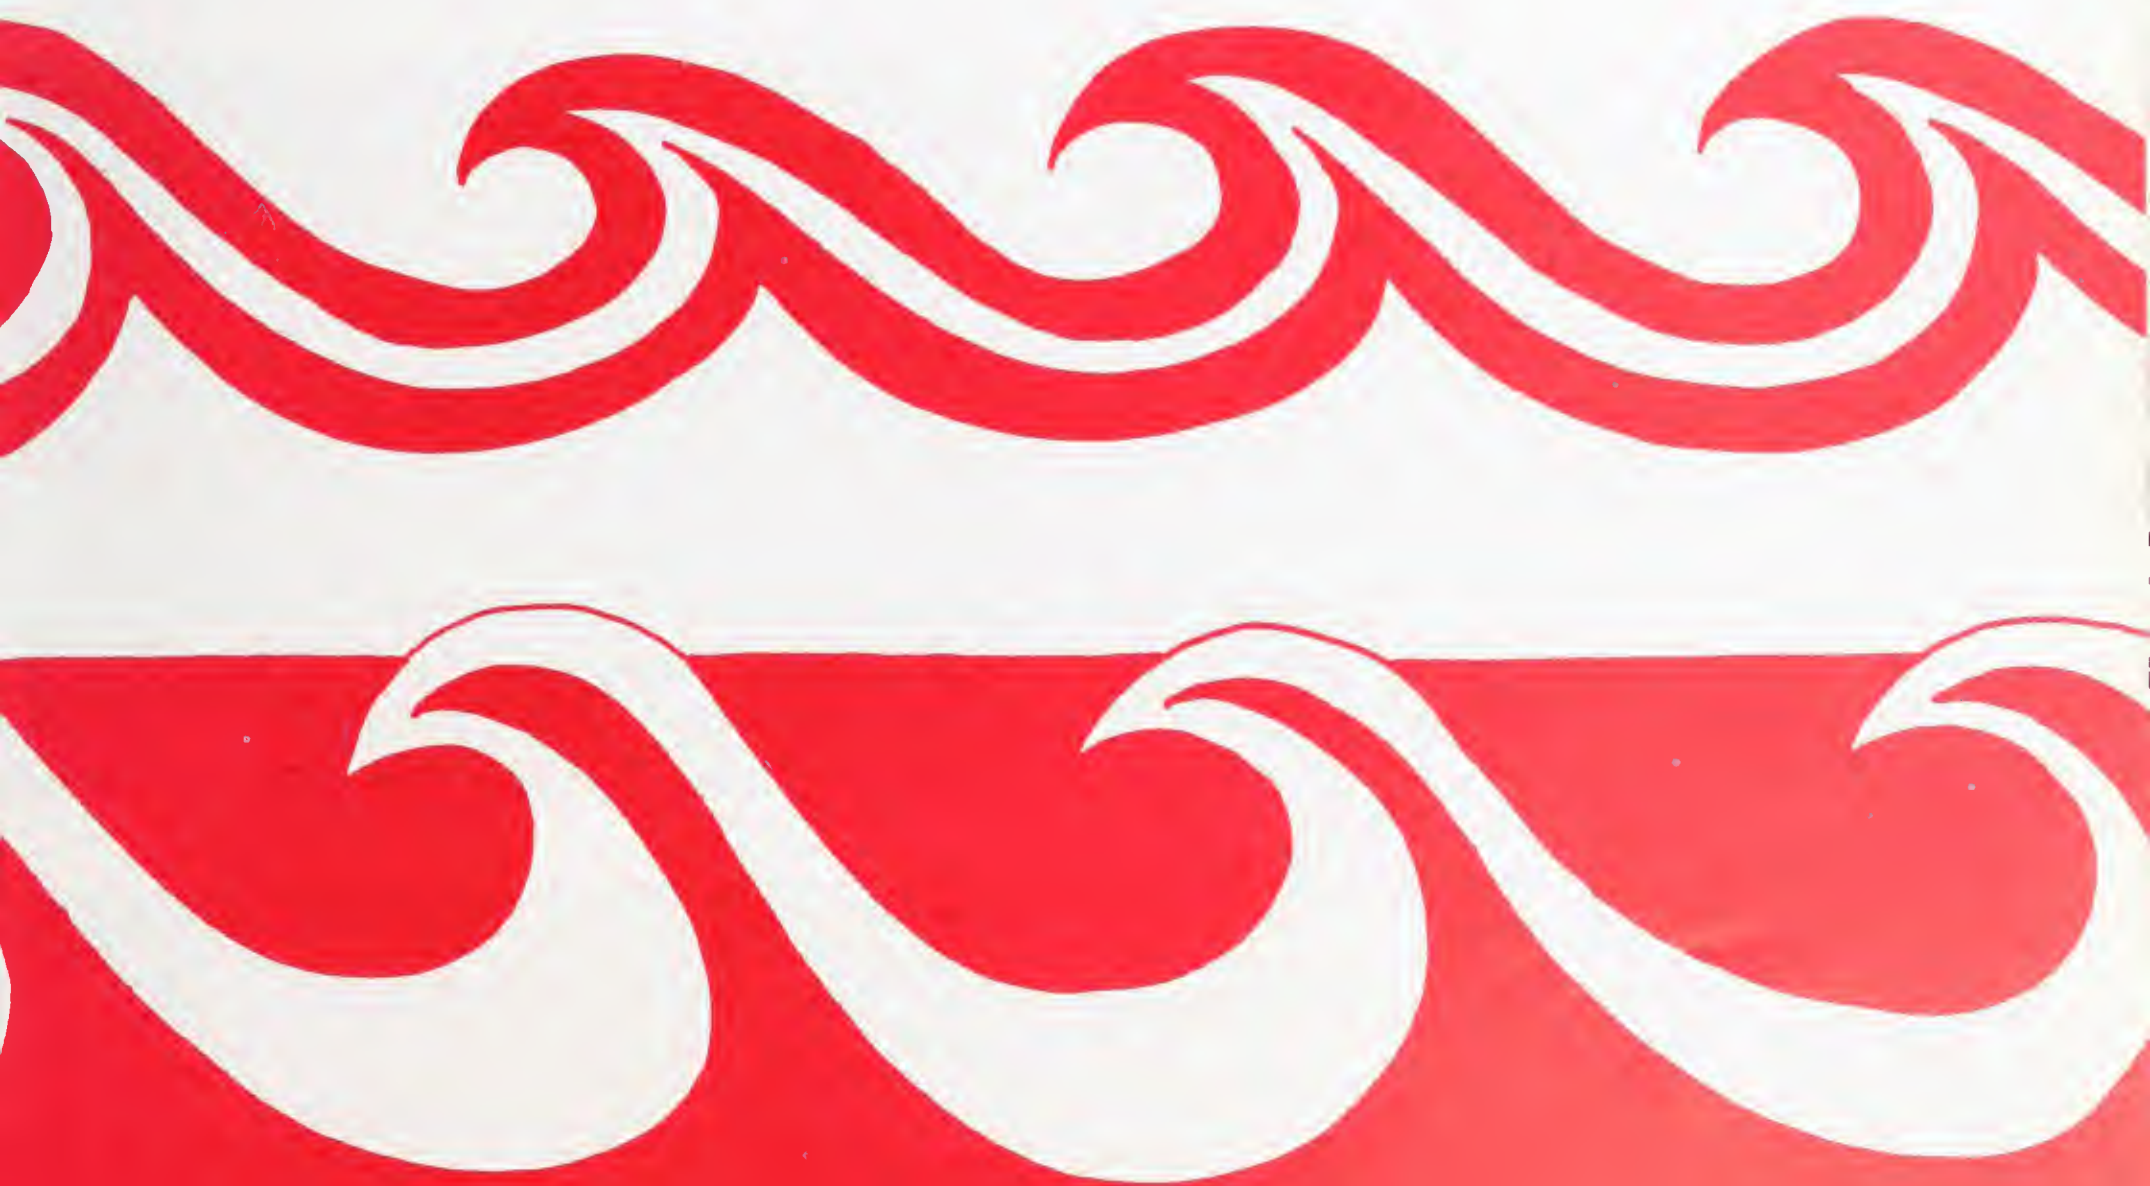

Me and my faithful counselor

STUDENT BODY

Student Body Officers devise new system

Unity was the goal Student Body officers reached for, when they escaped tradition by creating a new system, which gave each class an opportunity to win the Spirit Stick at different times in the year, destroying student apathy. News bulletins flashed over the intercom at the beginning of each Monday, informing students of activities of the week, creating better school communications. Old customs were not abandoned as Student Body officers had Executive Council meetings weekly.

Senate Communicates with Student Body

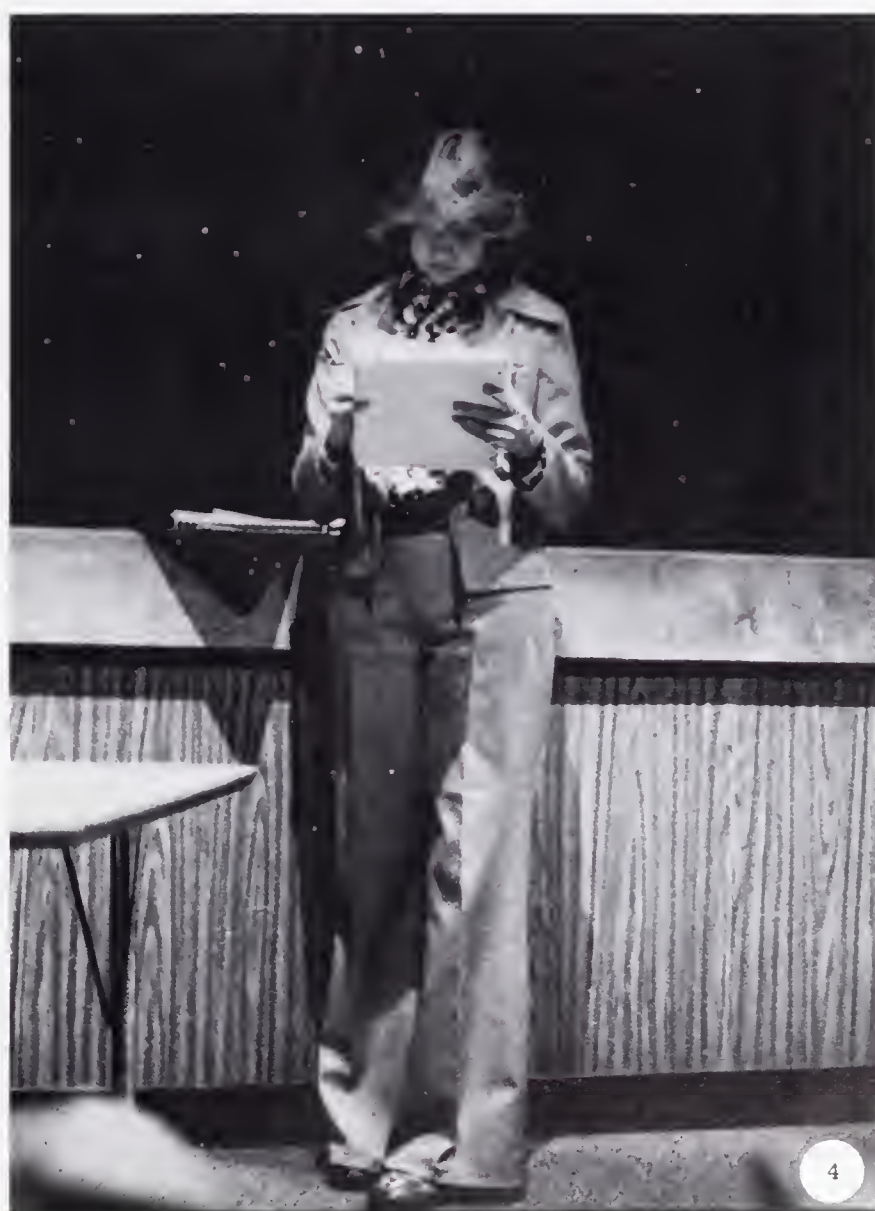

Madison High's Student Body was well represented by their Student Body Officers, club presidents, and class officers who gathered at noon for Student Senate under the direction of Lance Godfrey, Legislative Vice President. Student Senate discussed and debated the issues and problems of Madison High School. Student Senate was the link that kept the Student Body informed about the activities and changes in school procedures.

1. Lance Godfrey starts Student Senate with a bang.
2. John Frew proposes a charity dance for the March of Dimes. 3. Senate participants concentrate on discussion. 4. Michelle Mabey takes attendance.

Seniors Struggle with Government Class

Winning the Homecoming spirit stick was the starting block for the Seniors as they lived their last year with determination to make it their best ever! Seniors sponsored the Senior Ball, an assembly, and the Graduation Ball. Senior Class Cards were sold, allowing the Seniors free admittance into the Senior Ball and Graduation Ball with their dates and a reduced rate at the Graduation Banquet. Telegrams were sold at the Bobcat Bazaar by the Senior class and then delivered the following Monday during classes. Dressed in caps and gowns, the Class of '77 met as a complete class for the last time at the Graduation Ceremony.

Juniors discover U.S. History and quests

Being the middle class is a difficult position, but the Juniors had a successful year beginning with the grand prize float during Homecoming. Juniors carried their enthusiasm through the year with two assemblies and formalized it for the Junior Prom. To earn money, they held a pie throwing booth during the Bobcat Bazaar. One of the outstanding highlights of the junior year was the receiving of long-awaited class rings the symbols of the Class of '78

Sophomores adapt to revised mod system

Sophomores approached high school life whole heartedly, but confused! Two class yells could be heard from the Sophomore section at the first pep assembly. In spite of this first drawback, the Class of '79 rallied back for a second place Homecoming float. Dart throwing was sponsored by the Sophomores for the Bobcat Bazaar. Later in the year they put on a class assembly, and also sponsored a cake walk to earn money. Class of '79 won first place in the money-making contest for Miss Madison Junior Miss.

Boy and Girl of the Month serve School

At the first of the school year, fifty Senior personalities were placed on a list and voted on by the faculty. The results were the eight couples shown on these pages. Selection was based upon participation in school activities, grade point average and service toward the school. The identities were kept confidential until the end of the month that the couple was elected for.

ACTIVITIES

Bobcat is my World, rules Homecoming

With the beginning of school came the hustle and bustle of Homecoming week. Every member of the clubs and classes were racking their brains to come up with good ideas for floats. September 20th started the week off with the Stu-dentbody officer's assembly and the announcement of Royalty. Plans of the upcoming week were explained and the assembly ended with each class screaming their Class Yell. Homecoming was off to a great start.

Juniors clan together to show off their first place float. 5. The Car-Rally procession slowly edges its way to the Homecoming game.

Homecoming strengthens spirit and unity

Hall displays and class activities were dominant the next two days. Thursday, September 23rd was the final day of working on floats. Bobcat Olympics came that evening with everyone enjoying the games. Seniors won the Spirit Stick through their hard work. Friday brought the parade and Homecoming game. Shelly Russettes were the victims of defeat as we won 32 to 6. The Homecoming dance topped the week off as students felt a sense of school unity.

Graffiti Day reminiscent of the past

Sounds of the fifties was accompanied by sights of the same in the halls and classrooms of M.H.S. on Graffiti day. Trick hula hooping and bubble gum blowing wrapped up noon entertainment. Afternoon and evening activities consisted of a movie and a dance with three couples from each class competitively demonstrating the Jitterbug during intermission. Seniors wiggled their way to first place with Juniors running a close second.

Miss Madison Contestants aquire confidence

Senior girls were practicing routines and talents and attending workshops four weeks before the pageant. Preliminary contests were entered by the girls and scholarships awarded to the winners. Talents and modeling were done the first night; poise and appearance, top ten talents, and physical fitness routine the second night. Madison High, after winning the award of Best Pageant in Idaho, sent Tracey Erickson to the state pageant.

1. Tracey Erickson sheds tears of joy, after winning Miss Madison Junior Miss. 2. The contestants and their escorts receive a last minute study from the judges. 3. Excitement sparkles in the girls' eyes as the winners are announced. 4. Talented Julie Rudd tells about the terrible problems of being a baby. 5. Mr. and Mrs. Bigler keep pageant flowing smoothly with interesting narration.

Midmorning Special attracts famous bands

Madison High students attended the Midmorning Special where various bands competed for the award of a gift certificate. Winning the award was Linnie Ballard singing "I Want To Be Your Baby." Donny and Marie made an appearance backed by Sylvia, Goldie, and Cleone. Kiss, Deep Purple, and David "Bowie" also performed in the Battle of the Bands. For a grand finale Madison's own band, Whitewater, finished the concert with several numbers.

1. Dallin Larsen and Richard Murdock accompany Daniel Andrus in "I Never Cry." 2. Kiss (Chuck Hacking and David Woods) give a flaming performance. 3. Prize winning Linnie Ballard swings to "I Want To Be Your Baby." 4. Donny and Marie (Greg Fullmer and Julie Rudd) illustrate there ain't nothin' like the real thing. 5. David Thomson plays a futuristic tune with his hand-made synthesizer.

Christmas spirit glows throughout halls

Although there was no snow outside, the Christmas Spirit burned bright inside. Our school took on a new look with the lockers wrapped in bright paper and Christmas trees in the halls. The classes were judged on participation and the Juniors were awarded the Spirit Stick. The Senior Ball with white and silver decorations was a winter wonderland. During the Ball jolly old Saint Nick visited and gave couples candy canes.

1. Couples converse at Senior Ball while waiting to have their pictures taken. 2. Brent Gibson and Bridget Hansen help Grant Taylor decorate his locker. 3. Berkley Willmore, Doug Mason and John Heer wait while their dates powder their noses. 4. The Junior tree winner of the Grand Prize in tree decorating.

M.H.S. Week combines studentbody as a whole

Stomp 'em Day gave everyone a chance to wear their favorite footwear. Everyone enjoyed wearing red and white to show their school spirit. Then Rope 'em Day let the western style shine as students wore G.R. clothes. Students dragged into school at 6:30 for the early morning breakfast but found it was well worth their effort. Pancake eating contests were held. Winners of the beard-growing contest were announced and Mr. Madison Pageant was held.

1. Senior rope-pullers heave to first place. 2. BEARD GROWERS: Ron Ricks, Wimp Beard; Brian Burns, Senior Beard; Lindsay Zollinger, Grand Beard; Doug Whitehead, Junior Beard; Doug Weber, Sophomore Beard. 3. Brett Sellers and Layne Walker zealously work-out in Mr. Madison's physical fitness division. 4. Poised Greg Fullmer confidently introduces himself in Mr. Madison. 5. Winner of the Pancake Eating Contest, Bryan Stegelmeier devours a pancake. 6. Mr. Madison Talent Winner, Greg Fullmer, sways to a Hawaiian Lullaby.

David and Lisa, and Charley's Aunt entertain

"David and Lisa" was the story of two teenagers living in a mental institution and how they helped each other. "Charley's Aunt," a comedy, took place during the mid 1800's in England. Two young British college students were faced with the problem of how to get their loves to propose. Dressing a fellow college chum like a girl, they had him pose as a chaperone. The casts of both plays took a Drama III class to eliminate after school rehearsals.

1. Charley's Aunt is discussed over dinner. 2. Lisa (Wendy Telford) is confronted by strangers (Robert Parkinson and Jimmy Potter). 3. Jack (Brent Gifford) tries to persuade Kitty (Tami King) to marry him. 4. Lord Babberly (Kenn Wheeler) and Jack (Brent Gifford) drink to a toast. 5. David (Brent Gifford) expresses his fear of being touched.

Pepper Week revitalizes school spirit

Pepper Week got started on Monday with a bake sale. Tuesday the commons was crowded with cheering onlookers as the teachers had an apple-bobbing contest. Hats off to Bobcats was Wednesday. Buttons with "Give a Bobcat Smile," were worn by the Stu-dentbody Thursday. Friday the overall spirit shown as the student wore overalls. The week ended with the girls' choice Sweetheart Ball. The colors were pink and white. The theme was "If We Only Have Love."

1. Marcene Sommer auctions off a cake during the bake sale, as Kelli Mulkay and Cindy Boyle admire the merchandise. 2. Sweetheart Ball couples take a break for the intermission. 3. Coach Smith makes a big splash in the apple-bobbing contest. 4. Peggy Nelson keeps Lance Godfrey entertained at the Sweetheart ball. 5. Sweetheart Ball Royalty:

Cindy Boyle, first attendant; Robert Willmore, escort; Kelly Mulkay, Queen; Kelly Hillman, escort; Gina Parkinson, second attendant; Bryan Stegelmeier, escort. 6. Back-ups Layne Walker, Joel Price and Daniel Andrus play "If We Only Have Love" for Tracey Erickson, during intermission.

Assemblies and Forums break daily routine

Changing the list of assemblies for '77 a few such as the Midmorning Special were added to the customary National School assemblies. Spirit was sustained at least once each month through the excitement during noon forums in which classes competed against each other in events like arm wrestling and tug-a-war. Equivalent to the TV show was the M.H.S. noon Dating Game. Pep assemblies were held to boost the morale of the players before games.

ATHLETICS

Bobcats seize new league championship

Football season was a great success for Madison. Out of ten games eight were victories. North East League championship was seized by the Bobcats. One of the highlights of the Bobcats' season, was to avenge an earlier loss to the Marsh Valley Eagles at the Mini-dome. Madison took the first championship of the newly formed Cross State League which included six other schools in Southeastern Idaho. Our team wound up the season with an eight game winning streak and three championships under their belts.

Wrestlers proudly end with 7-3 dual record

Placing fifth in the Madison Invitational got the wrestlers off to a winning start. Wrestlers could be seen jogging, lifting weights, and limbering up before their next meet. It all paid off for the team as they placed fifth in the Bozeman and Evanston tournaments and placed third at Teton. Being second in the Northeast Conference and first in the Cross State Conference were also added to the list of wrestling accomplishments.

Basketball improves as season progresses

Basketball began with the usual layups, drills, and many hours of practice. With the help of the returning lettermen, the Bobcats were prepared for a good season. After the first five games on the schedule, the Bobcats found themselves with one win and four losses. Bobcats were stuck in a rut and couldn't get it together. As the season progressed, the improvement of the Bobcats became apparent with every game. When the Bobcats knocked off Blackfoot and number two ranked Rigby in consecutive games, no one was in doubt of the overall improvement over the season. Our Big Red Machine ended its season with a record of twelve wins and eight losses.

Girls participate in new sports program

On a first time basis, Madison High's athletic program included a girls' select class in which they practiced for their sport event. These girls competed in the district volleyball tournament held at Madison and took third. Madison son girls' basketball team took first in both the district and regional tournaments. Team participants attended the state tournament held in Twin Falls during the week of February 14 and received fourth place.

Intramurals teach students sportsmanship

Competition, through the intramural program, constructed an initial part of sportsmanship. Every student was able to participate and the champions in each area were awarded trophies and ribbons. Losing, as well as winning, added to the cause and kept students interested in other divisions and activities. Madison's intramural program assisted in keeping the minds of the students active and in bringing excitement and variety to their noon hours.

ORGANIZATIONS

Peppers encourage participation in activities

Presenting the flag at the beginning of each game was an admirable duty of the Pepper Club. Cheerleaders depended upon these spirited girls to help them cheer the team on to victory and to help decorate the halls and players' lockers before games. Initiation Banquet was the first of two parties held by the Pep Club. Promoting school spirit the Pepper week was filled with activities and was concluded by the Sweetheart Ball.

Cheerleaders initiate team support

Pursuing the challenges which lay before them, the cheerleaders attended a special camp where they won the spirit stick and a trophy. Surrounding schools' cheerleaders were invited to a tea sponsored by Madison's cheerleaders.

Ideas between schools were exchanged to help exhilarate school spirit. Pep assemblies and victory dances were held to keep unity and pride at its top. Cheerleaders magnified their job by boosting the spirit of each game.

Bobcadettes march to an outstanding Year

Bobcadettes arrived at seven A.M. week days to strengthen drills and create new programs for half-time entertainment. Girls' choice dance, the Bobcat Boogie held in November, was a great success for the Bobcadettes. Stationery was sold to earn money for the purchase of uniforms. Bobcadette of the Month award was given out each month to the girl considered to be friendliest and hard working. Bobcadettes' participation added enthusiasm to school activities.

Symphony Band benefits from new Conductor

Introduced to the Symphony Band was a new conductor, Gary Decker, who led them to the acceptance and top honors in the Bi-State Band Invitational in Logan. Tapes from Utah and Idaho high schools were submitted to judges and only the best bands were accepted. District music festivals were attended and Symphony Band played in both Christmas and Spring Concerts held in the Madison auditorium. Profits were gained at the Bobcat Bazaar, when they sold cookies.

Drama Club expands theatrical talents

Drama students participated in three drama festivals this year - district, regional, and State. Two speech festivals also occupied the students' time. Judging took place at all the festivals. Each student produced three different plays.

Each play had to be in three acts and one play had to be for children. Two plays were presented to the public, "Charley's Aunt" and "David and Lisa." "Peter Rabbit" was produced for the grade school children.

Mathletes total up a successful year

Pounding hearts began every meet as the Mathletes quickly computed their first equation. Calculus was a new State division added to all Mathlete clubs to make room for more participants. Trigonometry, Geometry and Algebra constituted the other areas of competition. Five district meets were held and a State tournament in Boise. Weekly meetings were attended to review subject matter for the meets and refreshments were served in conclusion.

M-News expands coverage of School events

The M-News newspaper had a new format this year, including new features and topic divisions. The added incentive of commission increased the advertising staff's output, enlarging the M-News fund. Two issues of the monthly paper were increased from eight to twelve pages. Editor Susan Hendrick's goal this year was to more completely cover all the facets of the school, by having a larger quantity of articles and these being more in depth.

1. Probing for information, Trena Rasmussen, the roving reporter, infringes upon the privacy of David Brown. 2. Garth Jensen and Susan Hendricks try out their own Grand Prize booth at the Bobcat Bazaar. 3. Editor Susan Hendricks proofreads an article by Doug Mason. 4. Madisonian staff races against time

Through the trials and scares of lost artwork, late copy, and rejected layouts, the Madisonian staff managed to put together page by page the Madisonian yearbook for 1976-77. Nervous breakdowns were an accommodation to rushed deadlines as often times the editors were seen begging for 5:05 mercy at the post office with the last minute sendoffs. Working together the Madisonian staff, with new advisor Jerry Child, completed the yearbook and summer supplement.

Principals, Secretaries Survive Flood Year

Burdened with a school, that was in the path of the Teton Dam Flood. Doctors Wilcock and Thomas spent the summer supervising and laboring to rebuild the school.

For secretaries Mrs. Bell and Mrs. Hirschi, water damaged records and mud encrusted micro-film, developed difficult tasks, which were employed in preparation for the school year.

With close supervision and hard work the school was renewed to its former self, and began only three weeks late.

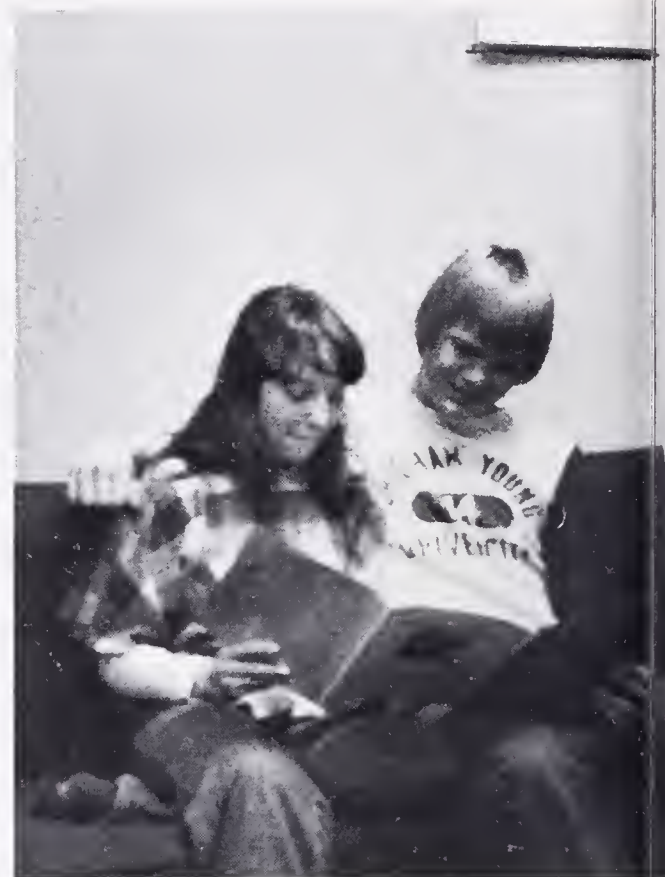

As a result of discipline problems during the year, a new Add-Drop policy evolved. For each school crime committed an activity was deleted until the person responsible confessed or was reported.

Counselors Guide and Assist Student Body

Vocational, aptitude, and A.C.T. tests were given to the Junior and Senior students by the counselors for better guidance in college preparation and student abilities. During registration, counselors reviewed with the students their graduation requirements and helped students enroll in the right classes and obtain the right amount of credits. Counselors also helped guide students who were unsure about their careers and occupations in the future.

Maintenance Restores Flood-Torn School

With a destroyed school to renew, custodians had an unusual year. Laying carpet and replacing walls became routine work. Cooks planned meals with balanced nutrition and a variety. Cooks often prepared banquet meals for special school clubs. Bus drivers had the daily job of safely busing students to school and home. When away from home games were held, buses transported team and spectators to the often distant locations.

1. Mike Caddel and Russell Camphouse prepare bleachers for basketball game. 2. Archer bus speeds through the countryside. 3. Fern Schofield stacks chairs for Senior Ball. 4. Cook brews a caldron of stew. 5. Hungry students line up for lunch. 6. Mike Caddel repairs jammed locker.

Language teachers utilize creative methods

Foreign language students contemplated new rules and fundamentals of Spanish or French while English students focused on perfecting the use and knowledge of their native language. Visual and audio aid with creative approaches were utilized to help attract student interest in learning diverse subject matter. Foreign exchange students obtained an opportunity to vision the English language and study its rules and precepts.

Business motto "Getting a job is no accident"

Business students worked hard to gain entry-level job skills. Typists strived for speed and accuracy. Accountants struggled with math computations. Transcription skills and speedbuilding were the bywords for all stenographers.

Procedures brought the office to the class room. Three new courses were introduced-OJT taught basic business jobs, Business Law focused on legal aspects of daily living, and Charm brought new dimensions to good grooming.

Math and Science lay foundations of life

Learning principles of addition and subtraction were only a small part of daily mathematical techniques. Slide rules, calculators, and miles of erasers were used as students learned to prove trigonometric functions and logarithmic tables. Student scientists were busy studying the anatomy of man and animals, looking at insects and plants through microscopes, and experimenting with chemicals and recording reactions.

Vocations Contribute Career Choices

Students of Madison were trained for the future in Vocational classes and organizations. Vocations consist of FFA, FHA, Shop, Electronics and Drawing. Students were taught specialties from nursing to auto mechanics, and upholstery to welding. Vocational students competed in District and State Conventions. FHA girls attended workshops including personality and cake decorating. Valuable experience, hobbies, and careers for the present and future were gained.

Physical Education programs offer exercise

Physical Education offered students a chance to keep in shape and exert stored up energy, while participating in football, basketball, ping pong and other team and individual sports. Gymnastics, competitive sports, and dress and grooming were covered in the girls' gym classes. Physical fitness tests were conducted in both boy and girl classes. New this year was a bowling class for those who chose not to take Physical Education.

The Teton Dam Disaster

On the morning of June 3, 1976, Bureau of Reclamation officials and construction crews on hand to put finishing touches to the Teton Dam's power generation plant noticed water leaking from the canyon wall on the dam's downstream side. Such "wet spots" are not unusual when earthen dams are first filled, so no one was overly concerned. But two days later, Teton Dam project engineer Robert Robison reported to his superiors in the bureau, "notice of major leaks was first given."

It was 8:30 a.m., June 5, a Saturday.

One leak was near the top of the dam at the junction of the dam embankment and the right abutment, Robison's report said; muddy water poured out at the rate of two cubic feet per second (cfs). A second leak, pouring out 50 cfs developed at the downstream toe of the dam near the bottom.

Robison put contractors to work plugging the leaks with large rock and channeling the water flow toward the tailrace, according to his report. But another large leak developed 15 feet from the right abutment.

It was 10 a.m.

Working frantically with bulldozers, workmen attempted to plug the leak. Within an hour a whirlpool had developed on the upstream side of the dam opposite the leak.

It was 11 a.m.

The bulldozers began pushing riprap material into the whirlpool. Behind them, the hole in the downstream face of the dam grew larger. According to the Bureau of Reclamation, a warning of impending disaster was called to the Madison County Sheriff's Office downstream in Rexburg.

It was 11:30 a.m.

Two of the bulldozers were swallowed by the growing opening in the dam face; their drivers jumped to safety. And then all hell broke loose.

Said Robison in his terse report: "The dam was breached and a tremendous wall of water surged through the opening."

It was 11:57 a.m.

The water continued its rush down the canyon, but flattened out and slowed down as it entered the plain above Rexburg. Rexburg Police Chief Blair K. Siepert was making a call at a spot some 20 miles from the dam when he was notified of the rupture.

It was 12:50 p.m.

Siepert rushed back to Rexburg, beating the water. "I could see it from the top of the hill," he said later. "It was just below Newdale."

In Siepert's absence, Rexburg policemen and sheriff's officers had been at work evacuating the town's residents to high ground near the Ricks College campus.

"The officers had been working from 11:30 and had people pretty well cleared out," Siepert said. "The town was dead."

Siepert and his men were back and forth carrying out property and making sure all people were out of the low area when the water struck the town.

It was 3:30 p.m.

"It looked just like a kind of prairie fire out in front of the water, kicking up dust, and it didn't look like it was moving that fast," Siepert recalled.

Siepert and his men stayed ahead of the water as it entered the town from the north. "It hit the buildings by the river first. We could see it was taking cars in front of it . . . lots of logs and stuff, and it was picking up all kinds of things."

Siepert realized the force of the flood when he saw it engulf a lumber mill on the town's west side.

"The logs - I would guess they were 15 or 20 feet - they would break and they were tumbling end over end coming through here chopping off trees and tearing most of the homes off their foundations."

Vaughn Wagoner watched the flood from a rooftop on high ground. "It was a wall of water, dust and logs rolling in front of it. Walking into it would have been just like walking into a brick building.

"Down where I lived, it was about four or five feet deep. I could see steam go into the air when it hit the sawmill. Then the Continental Oil bulk plant blew up. You could see the flame going along on top of the water. A trailer house came floating by and caught fire.

"I was standing on a rooftop and I couldn't see my house, but I could see the trailer park just through the golf course. I was watching it and I turned around to look downtown just for a minute. I turned back around and the trailer park was gone."

Lying between the dam and Rexburg were the communities of Teton and Sugar City. Directly in the path of the cascade, Sugar City was totally devastated. Teton was spared as the water swept by at 12 noon.

It was 4 p.m.

The air above the flood plain was by now alive with aircraft. In one of them, a National Guard plane, Idaho Gov. Cecil D. Andrus was observing the devastation.

Poclaiming himself "overwhelmed by the size and scope of the disaster," Andrus declared a state of emergency and sought designation of the flood area as a national disaster area. Units of the Idaho National Guard are activated.

Meanwhile, the water bore down on Idaho Falls, largest of the cities in the path of the flood. Upstream, Roberts and Menan, farming communities, braced for the onslaught.

In Rexburg, police chief Siepert and his men edged patrol cars into the flooded areas and trucks and jeeps made deeper forays. Darkness began to fall on Rexburg.

It was 9:15 p.m.

The water receded slowly. Siepert could not move his men into the town's northern portion until 3 a.m.

Outside the towns, the rich farmland that nurtured young crops of potatoes, sugar beets, hay and grain lay under a thick brown ooze. Animal carcasses dotted the landscape.

'By Connie Christensen of Rexburg, the disaster was measured in Biblical proportions.

"It looked like a plague," she recalled. "It looked like the 'Ten Commandments' when smoke came in and killed everybody. Houses, trailer homes and trucks were floating in it. Black smoke was billowing all over from the fires.

"You could hear the cows all night long, the poor things."

It was 5 a.m. June 6, a Sunday.

At daybreak Sunday, civil defense workers in Rexburg issued the first of a series of mournful bulletins: four known dead.

President Ford declared four flood-torn counties a national disaster area: Madison, Fremont, Bonneville and Bingham. A fifth county, Jefferson, was later added to the list.

To Rexburg, Idaho, hardest hit by the flood and home of most of its victims, a sleepless Roger Porter, editor of the Standard and Journal, brought home his first post-disaster edition, printed outside his water-ruined shop.

"Devastating flood water can't drown out spirits," boasted the newspaper's banner headline.

In Memoriam

God hath not promised Skies always blue,
Flower-strewn pathways
All our lives through God hath not promised
Sun without rain,
Joy without sorrow,
Peace without pain.

But God hath promised
Strength for the day,
Rest for the labor,
Light for the way.
Grace for the trials,
Help from above,
Unfailing sympathy
Undying love . . .

Mrs. Magleby,
you're a special person.
Thank you for letting me know that hair magazine is really like the way it looks on me. Thanks for everything.
Diane

Mrs. Magleby.
It was really fun
this year thanks to a special teacher in my life.
I would just like to thank you for all the help and support you have given me this year. Thanks for having me in your business law class, even though it was pretty full. I'm glad I had a good experience this year. Thanks for being my friend your student and personal friend
Glen

Thank you for everything you've done for me and my friends. I really enjoyed being in your class and being your student. I really appreciate all the help and support you have given me. Thanks for everything.
Diane

Mrs. Magleby,
I've really enjoyed Accounting I this year you are a really sweet and kind lady thanks for helping me. Have a fun summer. See you around. Lori Waddell

Mrs. Magleby,
Thank you for all you have done for me this year. Those visits up to your home were the meatest. It was a real honor when you offered me your purple room. I hope that you do get your little girl sometime in the near future.
Keep the good work up and I'll see ya around.
A friend always.

Mary Anne Rucks

P.S. I'm sorry about breaking your thumb thing.

Thank you so much for all your help.
I support this year. I enjoyed accounting and appreciate the extra time you spent with me when I needed help.
You're a great teacher!

Yakone

Mrs. Magleby,
Well you finally get rid of Us (Oh Boy) Thank you for being my friend and helping me in my school work and with the advice you've given me. Stay well and I be sure and write to you.

Love
Don
B.

Mrs. Magleby,
Thank you so very much for every thing getting taught me and for giving up with me. I'm glad you gave me the chance to help with the Miss Maaboom parent.
I enjoyed it and I'm looking forward to being in it again. Thank you for everything. Love

Sam me
Mace

Mrs. Magleby,
I have really enjoyed your class. It has helped me a lot. You are a perfect example of what you thought we and I think that's great. A friend always.
Stephanie

Mrs. Magleby,

Well I really think I've benefited from being in your Chasm class. I loved working with the Pageant and I appreciate the opportunity. I just might call or come up this summer and let you give me a facial. I wish I could take this class again from 40 next year because I love it. Thanks again

Lauri Brateman

Mrs. Magleby
I appreciate everything you've done for me! I really love your class! I wish I could take it again! I'll be back to see you soon! Love, Trace

Mrs. Magleby
I'm glad I took your class. I learned a lot even if it doesn't look like it. You're a real pretty lady.
Robin

I enjoyed your accounting class. And I learned a lot. I hope you have a fun summer.
Helen Magleby

Love you,
Christina

Mrs. Magleby,
Thanks so much for your help and friendship this year. I enjoyed working with you in class and mostly in the pageant. I really appreciated your concern and love for each girl. You've been a tremendous example to me in everything you do. Thanks a lot for the beautiful necklace, you'll never know how much that meant to me to have a teacher who really cared.

Mrs. Magleby,

You've been one of my most favorite teachers. You know how to teach well and you understand the students. Thanks for being my teacher. I'm looking forward to seeing you next year and maybe this summer too.

Margo

Mrs. Magleby,

It's been fun this year in Business Law even if we did have a lot of homework. I think you are a real nice lady even if your boys say you yell alot. Have a nice summer if you can with all that dust flying around but sorry we can't help that. See you next year in class

Mrs. Magleby,
It's been a super year and we had alot of fun getting to know you. You are a very beautiful person, I am so jealous. Tomorrow I am going to work up and make you do something with this ugly job. You are a sweet friend and I hope that I can get to know you alot better. Thanks for letting a little sophomore live this class. I bet you wish I'd act like a lady. nah. Have a fun summer.
P.S. If you ever need any help call!
Dickie

Mrs. Magleby,

I would like to thank you for all you've done for me. I'm sure that it's teachers like you that will stick with me for the rest of my life. The things that you have taught me, not only out of the books but the things in life also, I will always cherish. Thank you for being the friend that you have to me. I will really miss ya. Thanks again Shirlene (you said I could call you that as soon as I graduated)
A friend that I hope you will always remember,

Robert

Robert

Mrs. Magleby,
I want you to know how much fun this class has been for me. I hope I can remember all of it for the rest of my life. Thank - you for giving me some extra - tips for the Pageant! During the Campaign
I appreciated your support & help!
I'd love for you & your family to come & visit me. I'd love to see you. I'm sure your sons would have fun with me.
Nephews! I'm looking forward to next year.
I hope to help you as a teacher's aid!
I loved the last Pageant or I'm sure Miss
Madison will be fun!
Sincerely - Valerie

Mrs. Magleby
Business law has been a real help to me. Me and Eric talked a lot but I hope you didn't mind your friend Nathan

Mrs. Magleby,
I loved every class I had from you. You made them so interesting. You might as well know you're my idol. You have had the perfect life. If mine turns out half as well as yours I'll be happy.

Thanks for putting up with me. I'm afraid I find talking about as interesting as class. Thanks for all the extra help you've given me.
I've never known anyone who knew more stories that went along with Business Law. Hope to see you next year.

your best supporter!

Valerie

Mrs. Magleby,
 I have really enjoyed taking classes from you this year.
 The most fun I had was during the pagant though.
 I really gained true friendship and a neat experience from that. I'll always remember the fun times I've had this year and the part which you have played in them. I have really enjoyed you. I'll try and remember everything you taught us in Office Procedures and apply it with my job.

Thanks again
 Love, Arleen Barber

Mrs. Magleby,
 You a super great teacher, I've really learned alot even if you wished us at times. Hope you have a fun summer.
 Best
 Whilee
 Debbie 178

Dearest Mrs. Magleby
 I really enjoyed taking accounting from you this year. I still can't figure out why you didn't like John and I as well as you did. Thanks for everything you taught me.
 Brian
 Cassidy

Mrs. Magleby
 It has been a real challenge to take poise + personality from you. I have learned alot of things that I needed. How often
 I needed. You are a very good teacher. Love,
 Bonnie J

Mrs. Magleby,
 I really enjoyed this year. However, I do not for me it was so hard but I'm glad to get the experience
 I needed. How often
 I needed. You are a very good teacher. Love,
 Bonnie J

Mrs Magleby,

Mrs Mag.
I am not going to take Accounting II

Thanks so much for everything you have taught me, and done for me. Your really a fantastic lady. Everything you teach, you really live up to. You really know what is best to do, because I've never seen you look out of place, everything is just perfect about you. I hope that some of that can rub off on me. I hope I can set as good of an example as you. Thanks again for everything, and just being you.

Barbara

Mrs Magleby,
You are a great teacher. I've really learned a lot from your class. I hope I can be in your class next year. I can get to know you better. See you next year.
Love
Barbara

Mrs. Magleby,

Thanks for a great year and a fun time. I don't know when I'll see you again, but I will try to keep in touch.
You a wonderful teacher and a beautiful person.

Keep Smiling
Jack

Mrs. Magleby,

Thanks so much for letting me be in your poise class. I learned so much from it - although I'm not exactly poised yet. I'm really going to miss Madison and all the great teachers here. I just wanted to tell you that I admire you a lot - I really think you're great.

I love you,

Mrs. Magleby,
I thank you so much for everything! I've really enjoyed having you as a teacher. You always advised me!
I hope you have a great summer! and that you will come to the Beagmud! It would be a regular summer
if you didn't come!
Thanks again!

My Best Teacher,
It was really fun
in Business Law.
Maybe I'll learn something in it if I take it again next year. Thanks for being so understanding about my late work hope to see you next year.

Love,
Doug

miss magally

I think you're a really fun teacher when you're not throwing your shoes at someone. I really enjoyed your class even though it got a little rough at the end.
I like the way you connect with your students very pretty and a great example for everyone.

BLOCKS people care about fashion - they care about you.

Assemblies and forums introduce springtime

Spring was sprung by the student-body participating in a noontime kite-flying forum. Girls and boys alike afroed their hair on Grubby Day and dressed up in their ugliest clothes and chased a greased pig at noon. National School Assemblies such as a sketch artist, accordion player and musical performers entertained the student-body. Seniors recapped the year's events and said their goodbyes in the final assembly for the class of '77."

1. English performer Barry Martin imitates Johnny Cash. 2. Brian Gibson tells of cross-state league winnings in awards assembly. 3. Jodi Weekes prepares pig for grease-pig chase during Senior Week. 4. Bob Wood puts finishing touches on Tom Sawyer.

1. Seniors take advantage of "Grubby Day." 2. Jennifer Watts goes afro-Madison. 3. One of the illustrious acts from the senior assembly. 4. "Rubber Room" is exemplified in senior assembly. 5. Don Comfort entertains the studentbody on his accodian.

Baseball catches spring sport spectators

Along with spring comes the excitement and fun of baseball season. Madison players started breaking in gloves, shaping up throwing arms, and running bases. Six wins made the season workouts all worth it. Cold weather never hindered the desire to play another game. Ricks College offered their diamond for home games inas- much as our own is still in the beginning stages. Idaho Falls High School hosted the A-2 baseball tournament.

1. James Jensen makes the final out in the Sugar City game. 2. Jeff Rydalch connects a homerun.

Laura Lee Linford breaks the tape at the finish of the 880. 3. Keri Neville hits the dirt on final long jump. 4. Bart Stevens hurls the disc.

Co-ed track aims high

Vigorous training such as running to and from Sugar City paid off in the State track meet and in previous meets. The men's 440 relay team set a goal for other Madison teams to live up to by winning first place in the State of Idaho.

Other placers were Jeff Waite in the long and high jump and Colette Jenkins in the high jump. Becky Koon achieved fifth in state in the girl's 220. Madison was represented well and displayed its undying pride.

High honors in State

1. Jeff Waite scrapes his way over the high jump bar.
2. Carrie Henderson completes a successful handoff to Jacki Arnold in the mile relay. 3. Collette Jenkins bursts ahead to take first in the 110-yard hurdles. 4. Blake Thatcher strenuously lands in his long jump.

Golf brings activity into early spring

Victory was in the eyes of this year's golf team. Brian Burns, Dallin Larsen, and Steve Wasden were the three returning lettermen with Doug Mason, Berkeley Willmore, and John Heer as the other team members. They are coached by Coach Holman, one of the great philosophers of the "Game." Defeating St. Anthony, Rigby, and taking second at Burley's Invitational meet were a few of the team's wins that went down on their record.

1. Dallin Larsen, Brian Burns, and John Heer comprise large half of golf team. 2. The other half: Doug Mason, Berkeley Willmore, and Steve Wasden. 3. Dallin exhibits style and form in his mammoth swing. 4. What brand of golf ball is this? The golf team revolves around its coach - Coach Holman.

Musical entertains music lovers of community

Swindling the townspeople into buying band instruments and uniforms for a boys' band kept Harold Hill busy in Meredith Wilson's musical "The Music Man" presented April 20 through 23. River City, Iowa, was the setting with props prepared by cast and stage crew to resemble the year 1912. Madison Musical Theater asked John Bidwell, the school drama teacher, to portray Mayor Shinn. Elementary students were recruited to play the band.

1. Traveling salesmen discuss Professor Harold Hill's swindling activities. 2. The boys' band entertains the citizens of River City, proving Harold Hill's "Think System" really works. 3. Mrs. Paroo reprimands Marion for halting the advances of the eligible bachelor - Harold Hill. 4. Orchestra provides musical background for "The Music Man."

1. Kenn Wheeler serenades his love. 2. Mayor Shinn insists that the Wells Fargo isn't coming. 3. Gary Bennion explains about the "sadder but wiser girl." 4. One Grecian Urn is presented by the ladies' dancing committee.

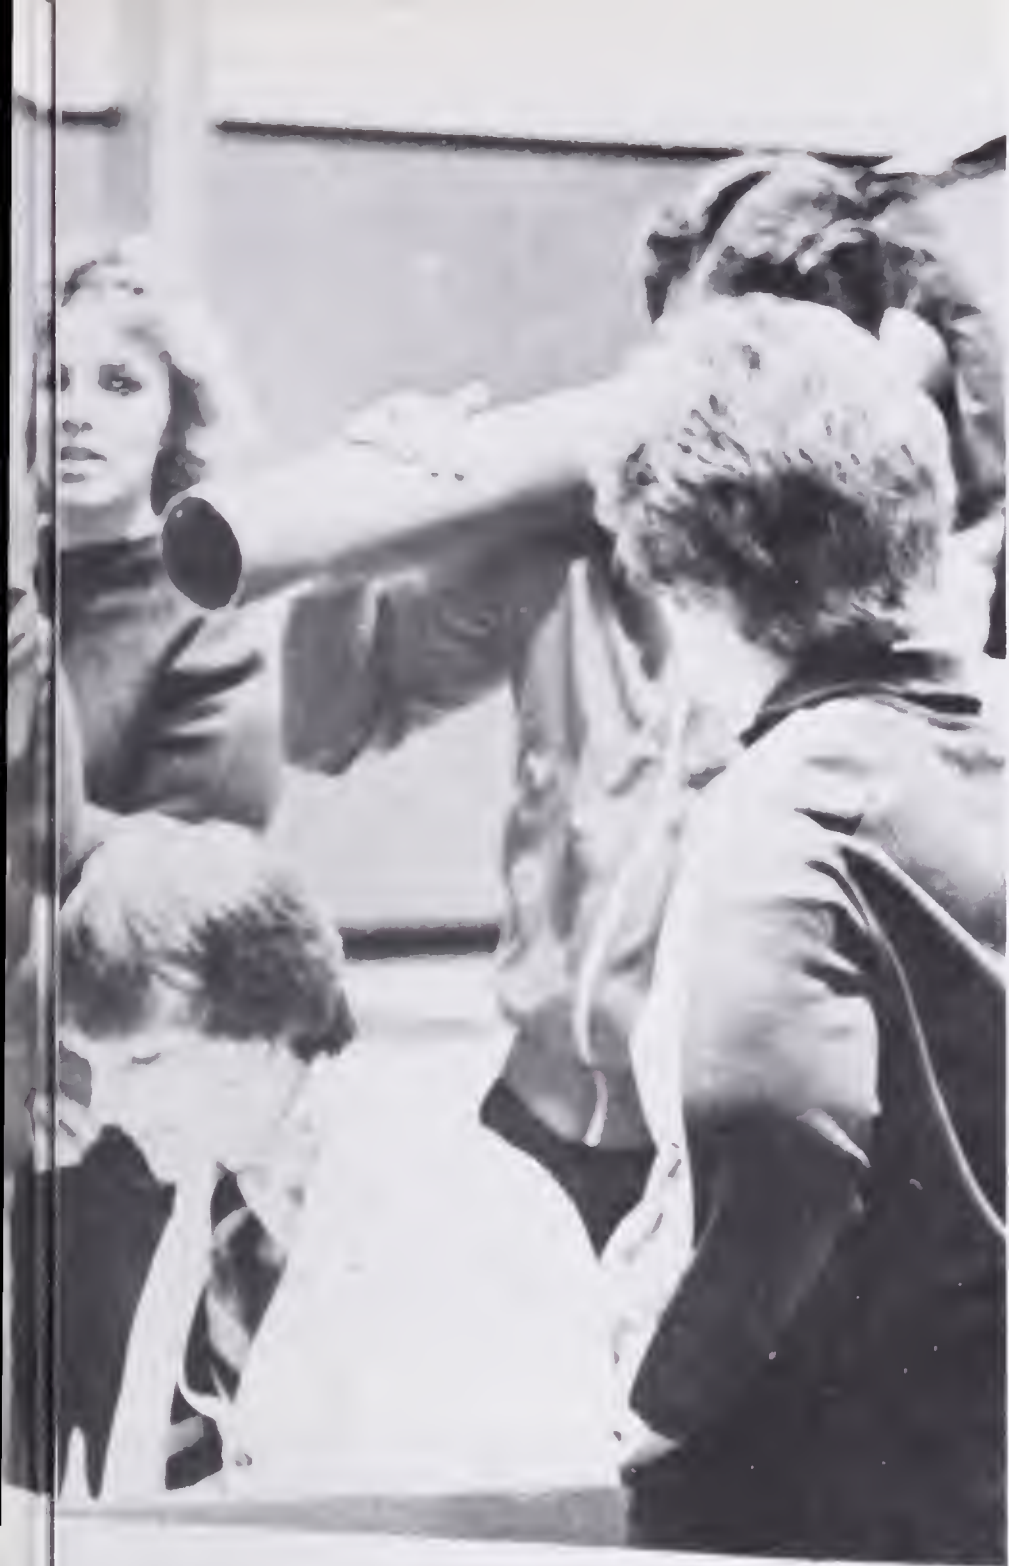

Elections brought friends and experiences

Skits, speeches, posters, smiles, and hours of hard work went into election week, which was held in the third week of April. Primary winners started painting posters and forming parties. Party skits and campaigns were organized in preparation for the final day. Hearts beat fast and loud as the results were read in the election assembly. Learning how to work with a group and making new friends were experiences each candidate shared.

1. Deonn Erickson gives one last smile before participating in nomination skit. 2. Bionic Bob and his six-million dollar winners perform party skit. 3. Berk Willmore expresses his pride in Madison during campaign speech. 4. Jeff Collier peers into future of candidates.

4

1. Old officers listen intently as James Wheeler announces successor. 2. Connie Christensen makes honor speech at graduation exercises. 3. Campaign slogans range from nationalities to Disney characters. 4. Dr. Wilcock and Pat Contor take a bleak look at the future.

Graduation holds promises for the future

Memories of years of sharing crayons, chicken pox, driving lessons, formal dances and class rings remained with the Seniors long after becoming alumni. Madison will always remember the Class of '77' for their football heroes, Bobcat mural, famous tricycle rider along with other awards and honors. "We've got spirit, we've got might, '77' is full of fight," ended twelve years of education as did graduation exercises with its pomp and ceremony.

1. The Madrigals choir sings "Time Is My Friend" at closing. 2. Are they really ready for graduation? 3. Many years of teaching are congratulated as Coach Holman retires. 4. Many words of wisdom are heard from Kelli Mulkay's honor speech.

"Moments to Remember"

ON AUGUST 24, IN '74
WE STOOD AT MADISON'S HIGH SCHOOL DOOR
WITH GOOD OL' SOPHOMORE HOPES AND FEARS NOT KNOWING SO MUCH COULD FILL OUR YEARS.
OUR SOPHOMORE YEAR WITHOUT A DOUBT WAS ONE WE'RE PROUD TO SHOUT ABOUT
WE SET OUT TO SHOW THAT WE WERE HERE.
OUR FIRE BLAZED RIGHT WITH THE RACE
OUR FLOAT WAS AWARDED SECOND PLACE THAT SUCCESS WILL ALWAYS BE REMEMBERED.
AS JUNIORS WE BEGAN TO GROW
AS A CLASS WE DID UNITE
THE FRIENDSHIPS WE WERE GLAD TO SHARE BUILT SPIRIT INTO MIGHT.
AT HOMECOMING WE WON IT ALL
OUR CHRISTMAS TREE WAS A LITTLE TALL
THE JUNIOR PROM AND MOOSE WE WILL REMEMBER.
WHEN SUMMER PASSED AND SCHOOL BEGAN
WE KNEW THERE WAS A JOB ON HAND
MADISON'S SPIRIT WOULD NEED TO BE REBUILT.
IT STARTED SLOW, BUT PICKED UP FAST
WITH THE SPIRIT STICK OUR HOMECOMING BLAST
OUR TRIKE DISPLAY WILL ALWAYS BE REMEMBERED.
WE HAD A SCARE WITH OUR SENIOR BALL
WHEN ALARMS RANG THROUGH THE HALLS
THE DANCE TURNED OUT TO BE A SUCCESS
WE PULLED THROUGH THAT CLOSE CALL.
THE WRESTLING PINS, AND RIGBY'S FATE
THE MINIDOME GAME THAT WON US STATE
THESE VICTORIES WILL FOREVER BE REMEMBERED.
AND NOW WE'RE HERE TO SAY GOOD-BYE
TO DAYS AND YEARS AND FRIENDS
BUT THE LAUGHTER AND THE GOOD TIMES SHARED WILL LAST US TO THE END.
FOR WE'VE GOT SPIRIT, WE'VE GOT MIGHT
'77 IS FULL OF FIGHT
WE WILL HAVE THESE MOMENTS TO REMEMBER.
IT'S MAY '77 - WE STAND ONCE MORE
NOW ON THE OTHER SIDE OF MADISON'S DOOR
WE TAKE WITH US MEMORIES, KNOWLEDGE, HOPES, AND SOME FEARS, FEELING BETTER EQUIPPED TO CHALLENGE THE YEARS.

"GOOD-BYE OLD HIGH"

We gather once again before the parting
With friends and class-mates we shall ne're forget.
We think of days gone by, and years that seem to fly
Since on the thresh-hold of our school we met,
We know not what the future holds before us,
'We cannot know the things that are in store,
But old high you've paved the way
We're ready come what may
Our happy, happy school days now are o're.
No matter where we go or what befalls us,
The scenes of days gone by shall ne're depart
And in our hearts will ring, the songs we love to sing,
Sweet memories will linger in each heart.
The future lies beyond and we are standing
Upon the threshold of a new-born day,
May its cheery light e're shine,
Across your path and mine,
As hope-fully we journey on life's way.

Good-bye, old high, the play is o're and the curtain falls,
Good-bye, old high, we pass today from these well-loved halls,
Good-bye, old high, through smiles and tears; mid hopes and fears,
Through all these happy golden years, we're all for you!!!
